ROYAL SCOT CRYSTAL

Front cover image - Iona Collection

Approximate UK RETAIL PRICE LIST | February 2026

At Royal Scot Crystal we prize great design and hand-made quality above all else and that makes us stand out from the crowd. We have been masters of our trade for decades and our commitment to excellence spans generations and our expertise is second to none. Exquisite style and great functionality are the two hallmarks of our crystal glassware. Our craftsmen are the secret of our success and in an age of mass production each and every hand cut or mouth blown item has been made by these craftsmen.

All Royal Scot Crystal is presented in smart gift boxes or in luxury satin lined presentation boxes.

Barley Twist

These mouth blown, hand made barley twist glasses are a masterpiece of patience in the pursuit of quality. Reproductions of mid 18th century glasses, the stems are twisted during manufacture to create a delicate twist design within the stem.
Available plain or hand cut in Flower of Scotland design.

The Original Scotch Whisky Glass

This tulip shaped whisky glass is the Master Distillers' and Whisky Blenders' glass of choice. It was originally named a 'dock glass' due to merchants using it to nose wines and spirits at the docks. This authentic shape of glass is perfect for the true appreciation of fine Scotch whiskies.

Glencoe

Glencoe is perhaps Scotland's most famous, historic and scenic glen. The area is famous for waterfalls and the steep sided valleys which inspired our Glencoe design, a traditional deep cut classical diamond and fan design.

Bee & Honeysuckle

Inspired by a love for bees this hand cut giftware has a bee buzzing amongst fragrant honeysuckle in a romantic cottage garden. There is an old folklore called 'Telling the Bees'. It was once a custom to notify bees of any changes to daily life, including births, deaths & marriages.
